Dear Mr. Gluck,

This letter is to recognize the valuable assistance you have provided Avian Adventures over the past several years.

The market re-entry strategy you developed was easily understood and executed, and your ongoing assistance in building our sales volume was much appreciated.

The analysis you did of our financial and competitive position really helped us see the opportunities and risks we were facing, and your recommendations were well reasoned and practical.

Your ideas for new products and updates to existing products helped us stay ahead of the competition in the key area of innovation. As a result we have several patents in progress which improve our market position as well as overall company value.

We would be happy to provide recommendations to any businesses considering your services.

Yours Sincerely,

Carol Frank,
President
